

Basic Detail Report

A crowd applauds at a Communion and

Liberation demonstration

Date

1969-1979

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

The "Communion and Liberation" Movement (CL) was founded in 1969 by Luigi Giussiani, a Catholic priest, intellectual and educator and was a reaction to student left wing, secular ideas of the time. It also opposed the new direction of the Catholic church.

Dimensions

Overall: 8 × 11.9 cm (3 1/8 × 4 11/16 in.)