

Basic Detail Report

Three lecturers at a desk at the Liceo Tasso

in Rome

Date

1969-1979

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

Liceo Tasso is one of the oldest high schools in Rome. It is in the Ludovisi district and is named after Torquato Tasso, a 16th century Italian poet. During the intense years of youth protest (1968-1974), the high school often became the centre for frequent clashes between opposing political-affiliated students.

Dimensions

Overall: 20.4 x 30.3 cm (8 x 11 7/8 in.)