

Basic Detail Report

---

Pierre Clementi and Barbra Streisand

Date

1969-1979

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

Pierre Clementi was a French character actor. In 1972, he was arrested in Rome and charged with possession of LSD and cocaine. He served 17 months in an Italian prison before an appeals court acquitted and freed him. Lacking a resident visa, however, he was given 24 hours to leave Italy. Barbra Streisand, is an American singer, songwriter, actress, and filmmaker. During a career spanning six decades, she has become an icon in multiple fields of entertainment, winning numerous awards, and has earned her recognition as Mother of All Contemporary Pop Divas or Queen of The Divas.

Dimensions

Overall: 30.3 x 21.2 cm (12 x 8 3/8 in.)