

Basic Detail Report

---

Factory workers sit in at a strike meeting

Date

1969-1969

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

Apollon: an occupied factory is a documentary of 1969 directed by Hugh Gregory. The film documents the struggle of the workers' union typography Apollon of Rome , occupied for a few months after the management had decided to lay off the entire staff and to sell the land on which stood the factory.

Dimensions

Overall: 21.2 x 30.4 cm (8 3/8 x 12 in.)