Description

The Italian Social Movement (MSI), and later the Italian Social Movement – National Right was a neo-fascist and post-fascist political party in Italy. Vito Miceli was an Italian general and politician. He was chief of the SIOS (Servizio Informazioni), Italian Army Intelligence's Service from 1969 and the military intelligence service SID's head from October 18, 1970 to 1974. Vito Miceli was arrested in October 1974 on charges of "political conspiracy" concerning investigations about the Golpe Borghese "coup" attempt. He was acquitted of any wrongdoing in 1978. Miceli also received money in 1972 from the United States embassy in Rome. He later became deputy of Parliament for the neo-fascist Italian Social Movement (1976-1987).
