

Basic Detail Report

A nun casts her vote at a polling station in

Rome

Date

1969-1979

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

The Rome suburb of Trionfale (Triumphant/Triumphal, the name apparently derived from the city's historic attraction to triumphal arches) is referred to by Romans as Trionfale or Quartiere Trionfale. It's in Prati, a few blocks north of the walls of the Vatican.

Dimensions

Overall: 29.3 x 18.4 cm (11 4/8 x 7 2/8 in.)