

Basic Detail Report

Father David Turoldo and politician Livio Labor

Labor

Date

1969-1979

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

David Turoldo was a religious and poet Italian of the Order of Servants of Mary . It is considered by some one of the most important representatives of a change of Catholicism in the second half of the '900 , which earned him the title of "uneasy conscience of the Church Livio Labor was a politician , journalist and trade unionist, fifth president of the ACLI, a member of the Society of St. Paul and the Christian Democratic Party , later became a Senator of the Republic with the Italian Socialist Party

Dimensions

Overall: 20.6 x 30.7 cm (8 1/8 x 12 1/8 in.)