

Basic Detail Report

---

Three men sit on the corner of a street

overlooking destruction caused by the Friuli earthquake in 1976

Date

1976-1976

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

The 1976 Friuli earthquake, also known in Italy as Terremoto del Friuli (Friulian earthquake), took place in the Friuli region in northeast Italy on May 6. The quake was centered on the town of Gemona del Friuli, measured 6.5 on the surface wave magnitude scale, and killed 939 people, injured 2400, and left 157,000 homeless.

Dimensions

Overall: 20.3 x 30.3 cm (8 x 11 7/8 in.)