

Basic Detail Report

Dario Fo on stage in a theatre production of his 'Il Fanfani Rapito'

Date

1969-1979

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

Dario Fo is an Italian activist, actor-playwright, director, who won the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1997. Il Fanfani Rapito is a play Fo wrote it in 1975, a political satire centred on Amintore Fanfani, the then secretary of the Christian Democrats. The play was written to support the referendum on abortion that was taking place at that time.

Dimensions

Overall: 20.2 x 30.4 cm (8 x 12 in.)