

Basic Detail Report

---

A family who have been forcibly evicted

gather their belongings to take to the streets

Date

1969-1979

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

A family who have been forcibly evicted gather their belongings to take to the streets. During the early 70s police forcibly evicted many 'Baraccati' from squats, partially built developments, and temporary shanty towns, as they were all deemed to be illegal, or missing payment to the government somehow.

Dimensions

Overall: 30.3 x 19.6 cm (11 7/8 x 7 6/8 in.)