

Basic Detail Report

A crowd of evicted squatters are moved on by the police

Date

1969-1979

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

Squatting in Rome has its origins mainly in the Social Centre Movement (Centri Sociali) which emerged out of a prior wave of occupations to combat the struggle for suitable housing in the 1950s and 1960s, the Government not being much help, except to quash those whom they saw to be breaking the law.

Dimensions

Overall: 30.3 x 21.3 cm (11 7/8 x 8 3/8 in.)