

Basic Detail Report

Portrait of Elio Quercioli, Mauro Bubbico,

Sandro Curzi and Giuseppe Rossini (standing)

Date

1969-1979

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

Alessandro Curzi, known as Sandro was a journalist , politician and TV personality. Elio Quercioli was a politician and journalist, in the Chamber of Deputies with the Italian Communist Party. Mauro Bubbico was a Christian Democrats politician, working with Amintore Fanfani, and he was an advisor and councillor to the City of Rome. Giuseppe Rossini was a businessman and longtime executive at the TV channel RAI. He was one of the founders of RAI 3 and appointed Sandro Curzi as its co-director.

Dimensions

Overall: 20.6 x 30.8 cm (8 1/8 x 12 1/8 in.)