

Basic Detail Report

---

Britt Ekland during filming for The Cannibals. On the film set there is a naked man and a soldier in uniform in the distance

Date

1969-1970

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

Britt Ekland (born Britt-Marie Eklund; 6 October 1942) is a Swedish film, stage, and television actress, and singer. She appeared in numerous films in her heyday throughout the 1960s and 1970s, which, along with her high-profile social life and 1964 marriage to actor Peter Sellers attracted considerable press attention, led to her being one of the most photographed celebrities in the world during the 1970s. 'I cannibali' (internationally released as The Cannibals and The Year of the Cannibals) is an Italian drama film directed by Liliana Cavani, released in 1970. It is inspired by the Antigone of Sophocles. The film competed in the Quinzaines des Realisateurs section of the 23rd Cannes Film Festival.

Dimensions

Overall: 30.3 x 21.2 cm (11 7/8 x 8 3/8 in.)