

Basic Detail Report

Italian pop group 'The Rokes', bassist Bobby

Poser stands with his arms in the air

Date

1970-1970

Medium

gelatin silver print

Description

The Rokes were a successful Italian pop group in the 1960s, composed of English expatriates. Their most successful songs included "Piangi con Me", the original version of "Let's Live for Today" a US hit when re-recorded by The Grass Roots; and "Che Colpa Abbiamo Noi", an Italian language version of "Cheryl's Going Home" by Bob Lind.

Dimensions

Overall: 20.7 x 30.4 cm (8 1/8 x 12 in.)